What Problems Do Developers Face?

Developers lose up to 40% of potential clients due to inefficient business processes, lack of analytics, and managers overwhelmed with routine tasks.

Before

- ❌ Clients don't understand floor plans and call asking "what's where?"
- ❌ Managers spend 40% of time consulting over the phone
- ❌ Cold leads take long to process due to manager overload
- ❌ Website conversion to lead: 2-3%

After GRIDIX

- ✅ Interactive map – client SELF-selects apartment online
- ✅ Manager calls client immediately instead of consulting
- ✅ All leads go to CRM with client selection data
- ✅ Love for analytics: popular properties and manager activity
- ✅ Export reports to Excel/PDF for decision making
- ✅ Dynamic prices update automatically from matrix and exports
- ✅ Website conversion to lead: 4-5% (+40%)

Sales Department

- Static floor plans don't engage clients
- Long manual lead processing
- Difficult to visually explain apartment advantages

Marketing

- Difficult to showcase project attractively online
- High lead cost due to low conversion
- No analytics on client interests

Management

- No single data source for all apartments
- Difficult to understand which apartments interest clients
- Data from different systems doesn't match

For Client

- Inconvenient to select apartment without interactive matrix
- Difficult to understand location and object layout
- Outdated website reduces trust in developer

How GRIDIX Solves These Problems

Everything needed for modern real estate sales – in one platform. GRIDIX automates the entire process from first touch to deal closure.

Client SELF-selects apartment

Clickable objects on the plan with visual statuses: available, reserved, sold

Automatic lead collection 24/7

Leads go directly to CRM with client selection data. Integration with AmoCRM, Bitrix24 and other systems

Data import in minutes

Upload data from Excel or Google Sheets with a few clicks – no programmers or complex setup required
